The Hidden Genius Project: Brothers Code

- Saturday, December 14, 2019 | 8:00AM – 2:00PM
- Merritt College, Oakland, CA
- Brothers Code, an Oakland based event during Computer Science Education Week, is part of the larger Hour of Code initiative focused on introducing people all across the US to the basics of coding education. During this 7th Annual Brothers Code event, young people of color in middle and high school are invited to join us to learn more about the skills and networks that can guide them to exciting opportunities within the tech sector.
- Additionally, we will also host a concurrent program for adults. We invite parents, guardians, teachers, administrators, counselors, champions, and any other interested adults to register and learn how they might support young people to pursue technology pathways.
