A close-up photograph of several people's hands clasped together in a circle, symbolizing unity and collective effort. The hands are of various skin tones and are positioned in a way that suggests a group hug or a supportive gesture. The background is dark and out of focus, emphasizing the hands in the foreground.

The Importance of a Collective OFCY Narrative

Roadmap of OFCY Evaluation Evolution

Descriptive Evaluation at Program Level

Where we've been

Development of New Evaluation Plan

January – June 2025

Realignment of Evaluation with Oakland RBA Framework

July – December 2025

Where we are

Beta Test New Outcomes with Pilot Sites

January – June 2026

New Evaluation Implementation Under New RFP

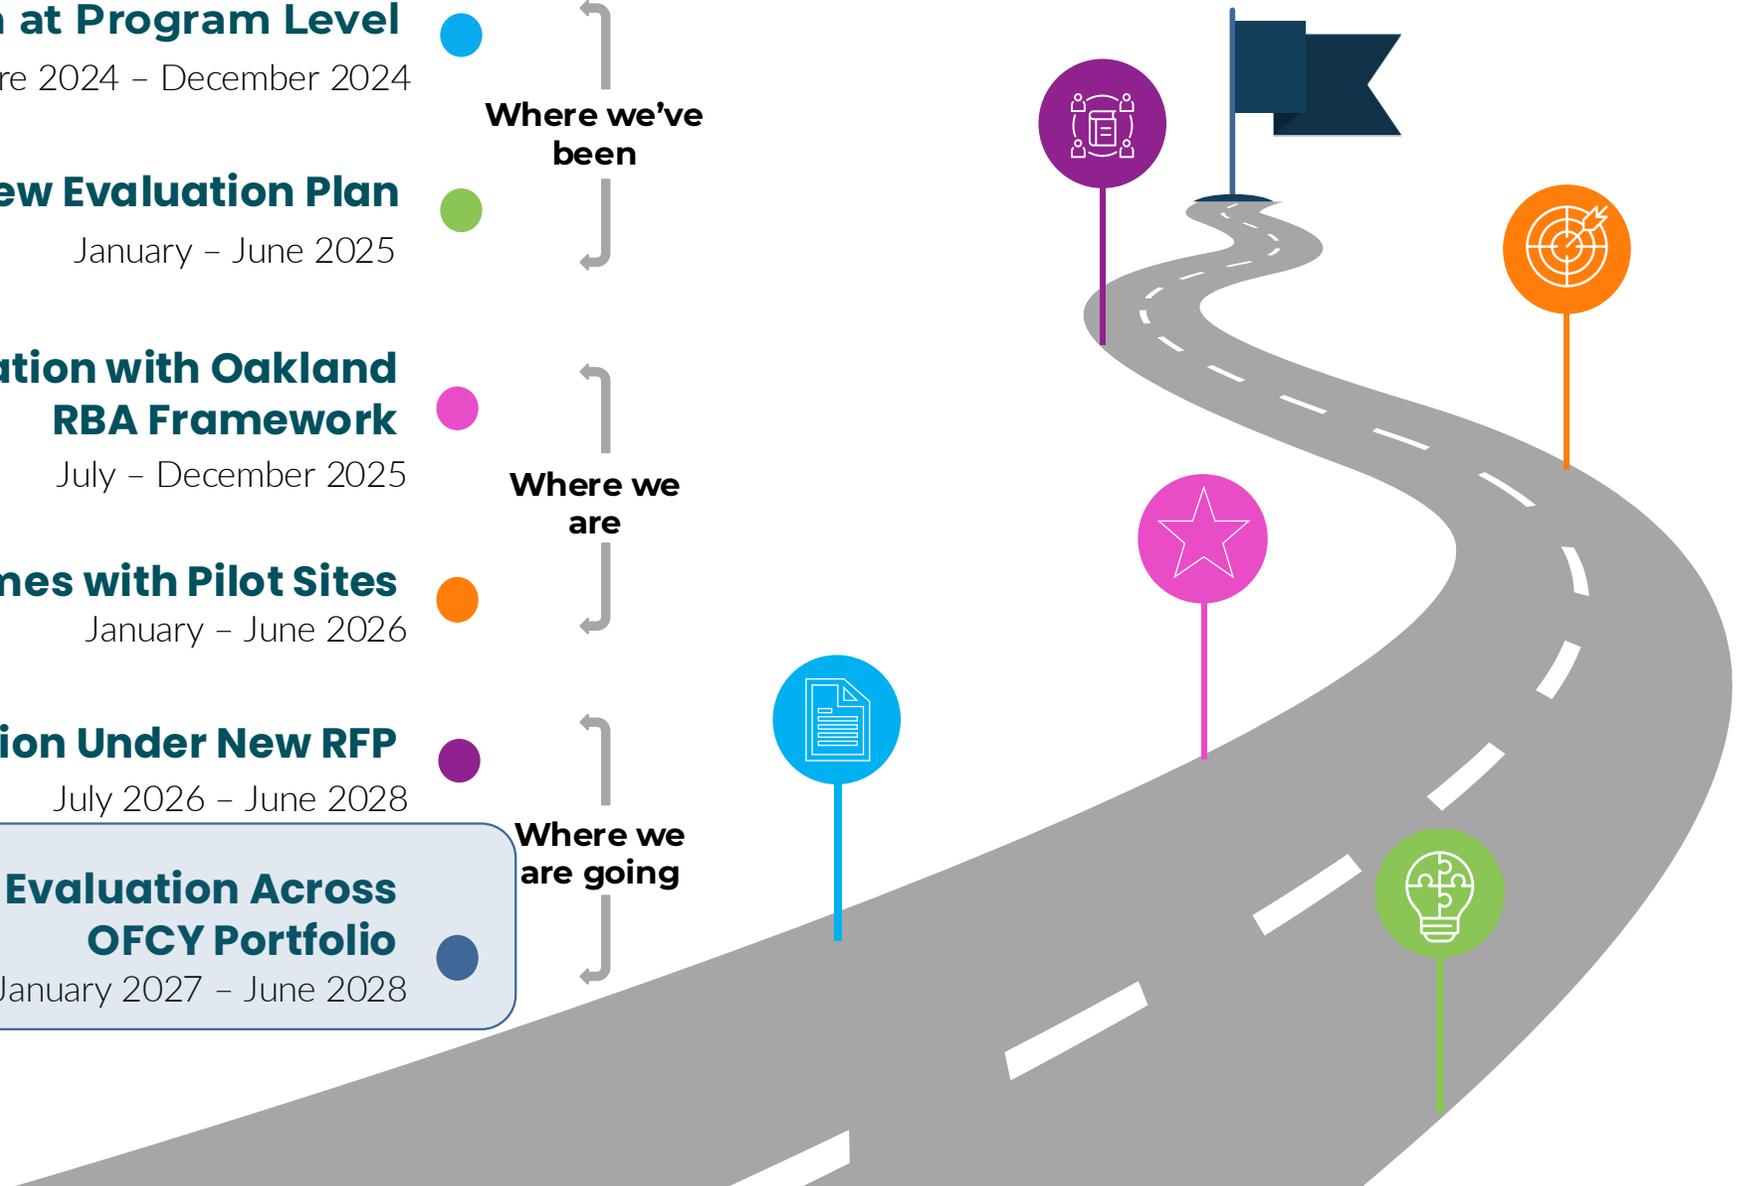

July 2026 – June 2028

Where we are going

Collective Outcome Evaluation Across OFCY Portfolio

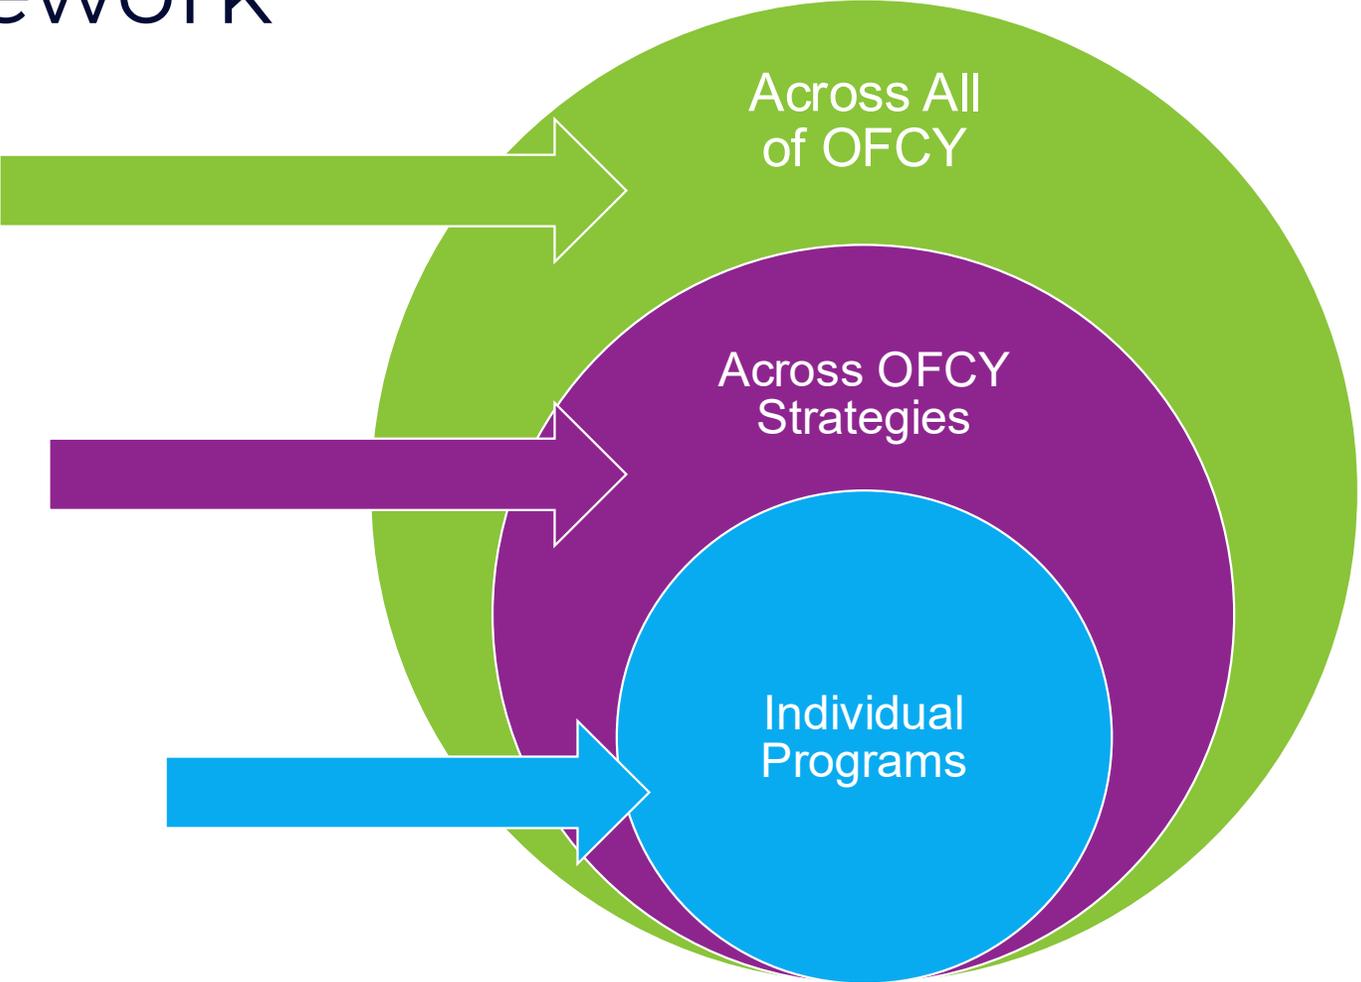

January 2027 – June 2028

Our North Star

Collective and Comprehensive Storytelling Framework

OFCY Results-Based Accountability Framework

How Much Did We Do?

- Number of programs funded
- Number of people served
- Number of hours of service
- Who we served (demographics)

How Well Did We Do It?

- Actual compared to projected hours of service
- Actual compared to project number of people served
- Equity assessment (do people served represent communities with most disparities?)
- Participant satisfaction

Is Anyone Better Off?

- What quantity or quality of change for the better did we produce? (number or percent of people with improvement in skills, attitudes, behaviors, or circumstances)
- Participants across OCFY report, display, or demonstrate improvements, such as:
 - Percent (%) of youth participants reporting increased school readiness
 - Percent (%) of parents who report increased parenting skills
 - Number (#) of youth participants who gained paid internship or employment

*Now more than ever,
we need to demonstrate the collective impact across all of OFCY.*

What is an outcome?

A meaningful and measurable change:

In a child, youth, or parent/caregiver's experience (such as knowledge, skills, behavioral, or condition)

It answers the question:

What is different for the child, youth, or family after participating in the OFCY program? (in other words, is anyone better off?)

What is an outcome?

What is not an outcome

Activities the Program Does

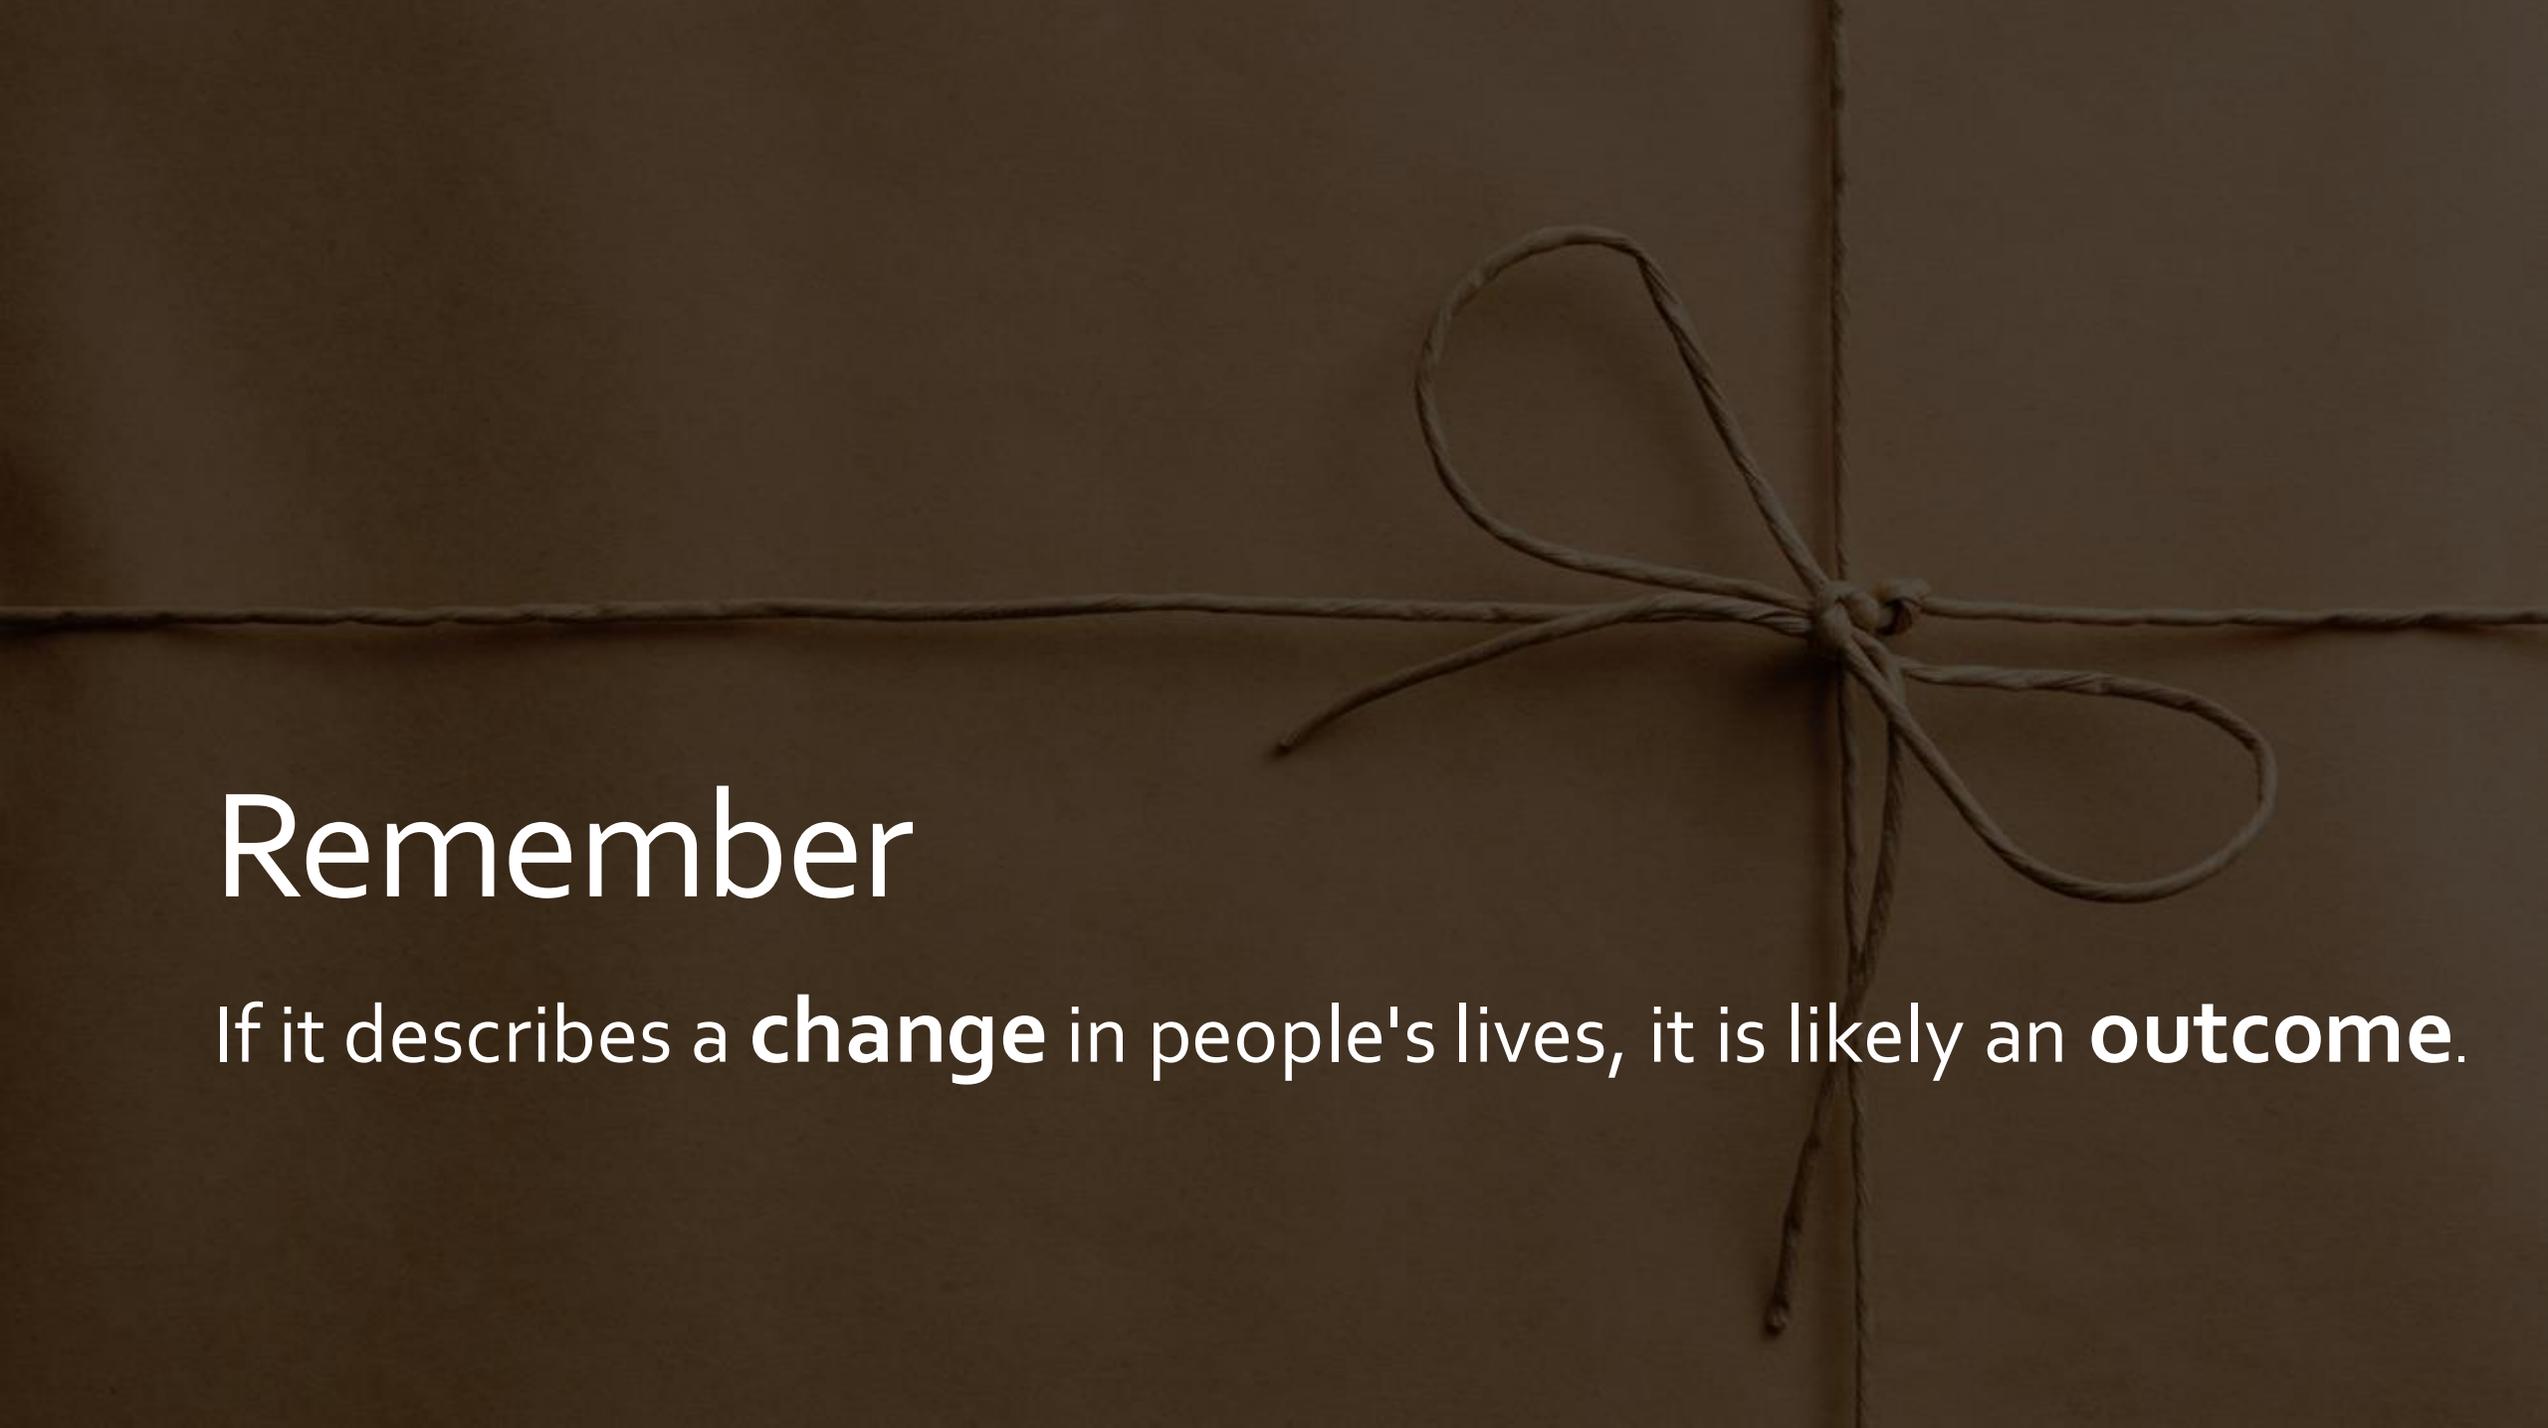

- E.g., held weekly classes, provided mentoring
- This information describes EFFORT, not IMPACT

Enrollment or Participation Numbers

- This information describes REACH, not CHANGE

This information is important, but it is not an outcome

- What program does = activities
- Who and how many people it serves = outputs
- How services were delivered = processes

Remember

If it describes a change in people's lives, it is likely an outcome.

“New” OFCY Outcome Categories

- Belonging and Community Support
- Knowledge Acquisition and Skill Development
- Connections and Access to Resources
- Leadership Development
- Client Satisfaction
- Engagement in School and Academic Support
- Violence Prevention
- Employment and Financial Stability
- OTHER

NEW

Outcome Category

- Belonging & Support
- Knowledge Acquisition & Skill Development
- Connections & Access to Resources
- Leadership Development
- Client Satisfaction
- Engagement in School & Academic Support
- Violence Prevention
- Employment & Financial Stability
- OTHER

Q1

Outcome Description

- Description of your outcome as input by your agency in Q1

Q3 & Q4

Achieved?

- Yes
- No

Strengthening Suggestions

How have you progressed? How do you know?

- Focus on the participant
- Start with the #'s
- A few more data points
- Data source
- Provide details
- Share even when outcome goals aren't met

Key elements of a good outcome

Number of Youth or Families + Change Verb + Area of Change

Add a Measurable Number: 15 of 20 participants, 80%
of our participants

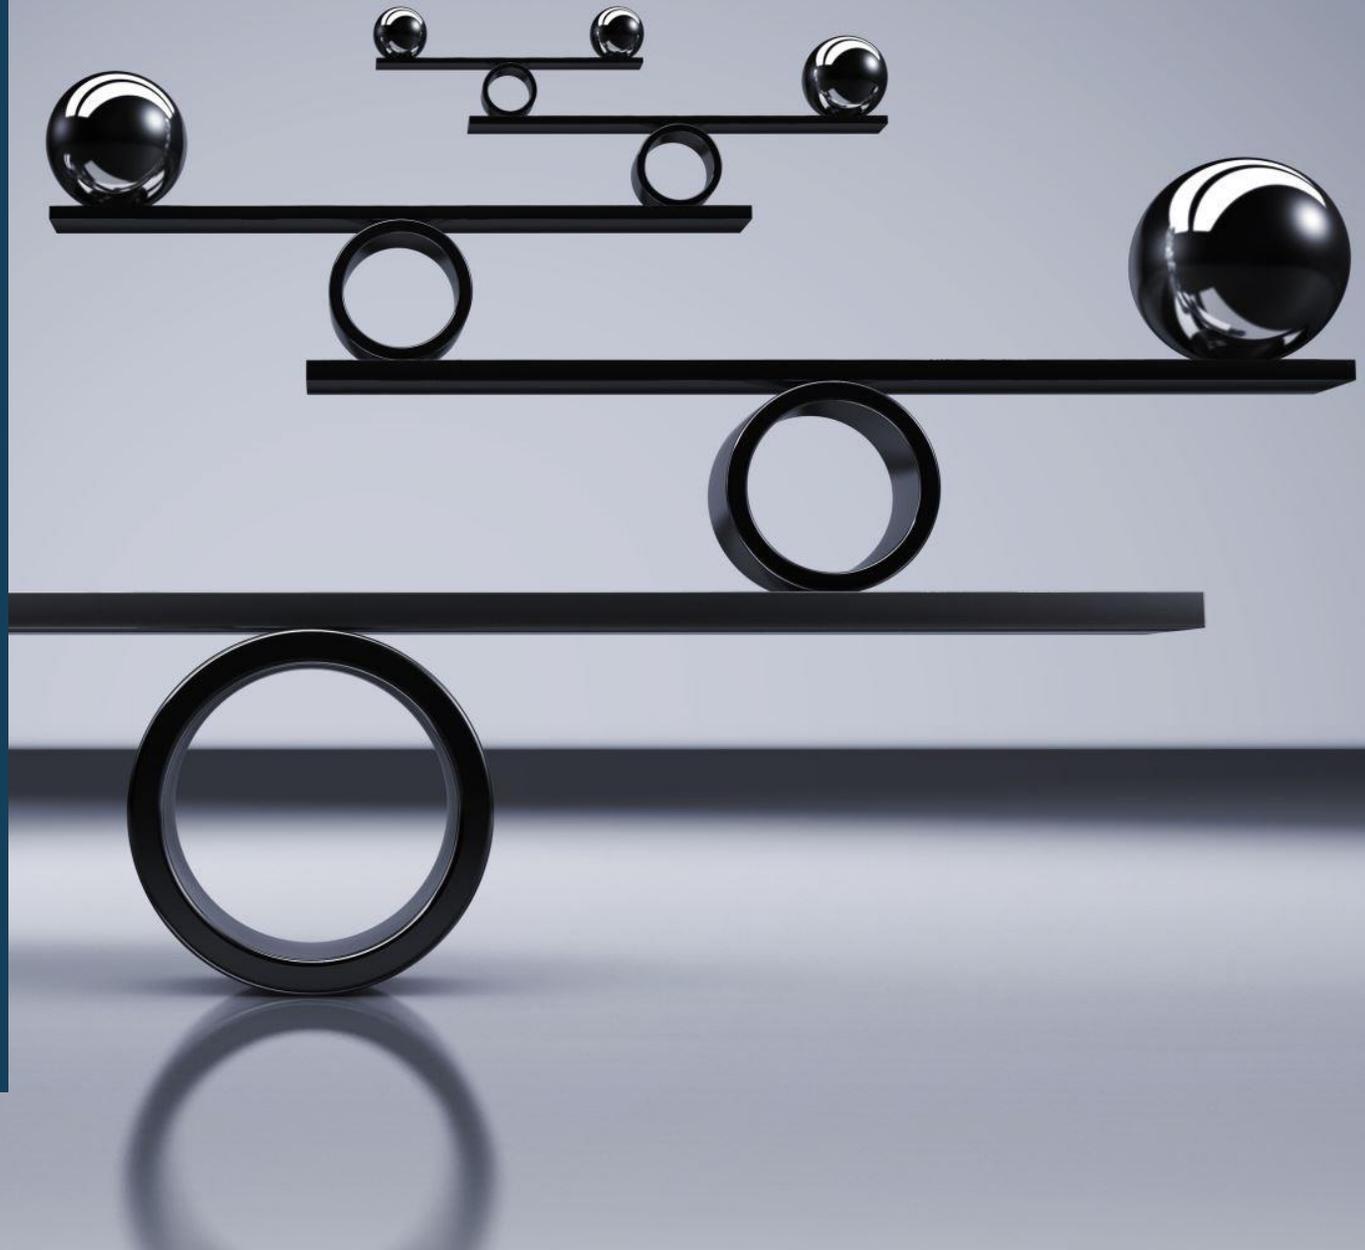

Helpful Change Verbs: Increase, improve, strengthen, demonstrate, feel, identify

Identify Area of Change: Connect to OFCY Outcome Categories (Belonging, Knowledge &
Skills, Connections & Resources,
Leadership, Client Satisfaction, Academic,
Violence Prevention, Employment, Other)

Examples of Measurable Outcomes

- Example 1 : 75% of the 150 youth enrolled in our program increased their sense of leadership and confidence by participating in a leadership role (Leadership Development)
 - Measurable Number = 75% of 150 youth
 - Verb : increased sense of leadership and confidence
 - Identified Area of Change: Leadership Development
- Example 2: 25 of the 30 parents surveyed in our program reported they had improved their communication and problem-solving skills. (Knowledge Acquisition & Skill Development)
 - Measurable Number = 25 of 30 parents surveyed
 - Verb : improved communication and problem-solving skills
 - Identified Area of Change: Knowledge Acquisition & Skill Development

Small changes = Large impact

Add denominators & numerators to your percentage

The denominator is the whole group

The numerator is the part of that group that demonstrated the change.

Example: 16 out of 20 parents (80%) in our program strengthened their ability to help their children be school-ready by receiving back-to-school supplies.

20 parents in total are in your program

- So 20 is the denominator

16 of the parents received back-to-school supplies

- So 16 is the numerator

16 of 20 = 80%

Add the Details

Reporting Example

75% of our participants reported building positive relationships with their peers.

Strengthening Tips

- Provide the details on the numerator and the denominator before the percentage.
- Identify your data source

38 of 50 (75%) participants who took our program survey reported building positive relationships with their peers

Provide a Measurement Along with the Story

Reporting Example

Over the past year, 6 participants were accepted into a leadership program and other competitive leadership initiatives. We've also seen students step into leadership roles within their schools, with 3 becoming student body presidents.

These successes reflect not just participation in enrichment activities, but real transformation. When younger students witness alumni returning to lead and teach, they are motivated to follow in their footsteps. Our programs are not only building skills, they're building leaders who give back and inspire others.

Youth are increasingly taking initiative, whether by leading group activities, mentoring peers, or participating in specialized programs. Former students now in college return to lead classes in our program, offering real-time examples of growth and leadership in action.

We track progress through participation levels, completed projects, and behavioral changes. Staff have observed increased confidence, improved communication, and a greater willingness among youth to take on responsibilities, speak publicly, and support others. These shifts reflect measurable development aligned with our goals.

Strengthening Tips

- Start with numbers (but keep the context).

In total, 35 youth participated in our program this year.

Of the 35, 25 youth (71%) took on leadership positions within the program, their schools, or their communities. (Leadership & Development)

Examples of leadership accomplishments include XXX...

Provide a Measurement Along with the Story

Reporting Example

This fiscal year, we have made significant strides in enhancing resource navigation for the youth we serve. Through the expansion of our services, participants have increased access to individualized support in areas such as health, education, employment, housing, and social services. Youth are now more easily able to meet one-on-one with staff to identify needs, set goals, and connect to appropriate community resources in a safe and supportive environment.

Additionally, our programs have integrated resource navigation into their core programming, ensuring that youth learn how to access and utilize services themselves. Partnerships with community organizations have further expanded the range of opportunities and guidance available to participants.

As a result, youth report feeling more confident in identifying and accessing the resources they need to support their personal, academic, and professional growth. This enhanced capacity to navigate resources has directly contributed to greater youth independence, resilience, and long-term stability, demonstrating that our OFCY-funded programming is effectively equipping participants with essential life skills and support networks.

Strengthening Tips

- Start with numbers (but keep the context).

In total, 35 youth participated in our program this year.

Of the 35, 25 youth (71%) received resource navigation support.

A total of 150 resources were provided to these 25 youth. (connections and resources)

Examples of resources provided include XXX...

Formalize Documentation (be creative)

Reporting Examples

We have measured our outcomes by the feedback of our parents through each day they arrive to sign out their kids. We have a practice to communicate each day and talk to the families while they wait.

Strengthening Tips

- Post a feedback board at sign-out to collect parent feedback.

We received feedback from 210 parents.

Of the feedback received, 200 (95%) parents provided positive feedback about their children's experience in our program (client satisfaction)

Move From What you Did, to What is the Change?

Reporting Examples

Provided 218 students with targeted academic support and interventions through Care Management for 56 youth; tutoring for 142 (84 of whom were international students); and Dual Enrollment participation by 20 students

Strengthening Tips

- XX total students were in the program this year
 - Of this total number of students, 218 students (or XX%) participated in targeted academic support and interventions
 - 56 received support through care management
 - 142 students received support through tutoring (84 of whom were international students)
 - 20 students received support through dual enrollment
- Of the 218 students who received academic support, XX students demonstrated improved academic achievement or academic readiness

What if our outcome isn't really an outcome?

- Such as staff training, program activities, which are more like program outputs
- Consider how you can document the direct impact of program activities with participants.

Change an Output (Activity) Into an Outcome

Reporting Example

Our staff worked more closely with students who were behind their grade level in reading and math.

Strengthening Tips

- Provide details about how many students.

Staff identified 20 students who were behind in reading and math.

- Describe the change for your participants instead of what staff did.

Of the 20 students identified as behind, 15 (75%) received additional support to strengthen their reading and math skills.

(Engagement in School & Academic Support)

Change an Output (Activity) Into an Outcome

Reporting Example

Outcome description: Youth will have access to participate in the program, which will increase exposure to practice academic skills, including using academic talk stems, making inferences, increasing the ability to understand complex text, and using evidence to make predictions.

Outcome Report:

This goal was met; the program took place once a week for both boys and girls in the program.

Strengthening Tips

- Provide details about how many students.

A total of 80 students participated in our program this year.

- Describe the change for your participants beyond the happened.

80 of 80 (100%) students participating in our program practiced academic skills, including 50 students who provided academic talk stems. (Engagement in School & Academic Support)*

Add “Data” to the Change You Describe

Reporting Example

Our seminar lesson plans are designed to encourage and facilitate student self-reflection, collaboration with each other and fostering their leadership skills. We are able to assess this benchmark in our program through students' journal entries and increased participation during seminar discussions. Our student's participation in lobbying opportunities and willingness to be interviewed also reflects our students' improved public speaking skills and confidence around networking

Strengthening Tips

- Provide some “data” points to your narrative
- Clearly identify the change you are seeing

A total of 80 students participated in our program

80 of these students (100%) demonstrated leadership and strengthened confidence by participating in lobbying opportunities

Additionally, 45 of these students (56%) showed improved public speaking skills through their willingness and engagement in interviews

(Leadership Development)

Other Strengthening Tips

- Identify the source of your data (especially surveys)
 - Results from our own survey show...
 - Results we received from OUSD surveys indicate...
- Quotes and stories are very important!
 - Please report them in your narrative section
- Even if you don't meet your outcome goal...
 - Share what information you do have (that's important too!)
- The Other Category is an option
 - Outcomes that do not fit in the "standard outcome categories" and opportunity for agencies to maintain outcome measures unique to their programs
