The Student Engagement in Learning programs funded by OFCY help children and youth feel connected to school and engaged in their own learning. Programs provide targeted academic support to meet the specific needs of the participants they serve, including youth at risk of dropping out of school, newcomers, boys of color, and students with chronic absences. In addition to academic support, participants may receive case management or participate in arts programming, restorative justice training, and socio-emotional learning activities.

Building leadership skills supports ongoing education, ongoing confidence. (Our older youth) talk about how you graduate high school, how you navigate going into college. Then when they have conversations with the younger students, it helps them reflect on their own goals and paths.”

-Program Director, on using peer mentorship and leadership training to support academic and educational goals
Participants

During FY2016-2017, 4,151 children and youth participated in Student Engagement in Learning programs. Key demographic findings are displayed in Exhibit 2 below.

Although children and youth came from across Oakland, more than one quarter came from the Fruitvale District.

A racially diverse group of children participated in academic programs. The racial composition of participants was similar to the OUSD student body.

Race/Ethnicity of OFCY participants compared to OUSD students (2016-2017)

- African American/Black: 29% OFCY enrollment, 25% OUSD enrollment
- Hispanic/Latino: 47% OFCY enrollment, 45% OUSD enrollment
- Asian/Pacific Islander: 11% OFCY enrollment, 15% OUSD enrollment
- Multiracial or Biracial: 1% OFCY enrollment, 4% OUSD enrollment
- White: 5% OFCY enrollment, 10% OUSD enrollment
- Native Alaskan/American: 0% OFCY enrollment, 0% OUSD enrollment
- Other: 2% OFCY enrollment, 0% OUSD enrollment

Three-quarters of participants were between thirteen and eighteen years old.

Services

Average hours of service for children and youth in Student Engagement in Learning programs was 21 hours. Key findings related to service patterns are displayed in Exhibit 3.

Exhibit 3: Services Received by Student Engagement In Learning Participants

Programs did not focus exclusively on academics; they also used art and youth leadership activities to engage youth in learning.

Younger youth spent the most time in programming and were most likely to participate in art and culture activities. Older youth spent more time engaged in youth leadership and civic engagement.

Over half of youth spent less than ten hours in programming. This was driven by a large number of youth who participated in restorative justice workshops.

Sampling of Student Engagement In Learning Activities

Academic:
- Literacy support
- Academic advising
- Project-based learning
- Credit recovery

Example: Girls Inc. facilitated small group and one-on-one literacy intervention services to elementary students through a curriculum that also promoted social-emotional learning.

Art/Culture:
- Beat making
- Music producing
- Cultural clubs
- Dance

Example: Destiny Arts brought professionally taught performing arts programs to 4th-8th graders during and after school to increase their sense of connection to their school.

Leadership & Civic Engagement:
- Mentoring and leading activities
- Restorative justice
- Organizing events
- Community impact project

Example: Students at Fremont FOCUS organized an antiviolence campaign and concert that focused on messages of antiviolence. At the concert, they deployed a youth survey that assessed how youth can tackle violence in their community.
Outcomes

Children and youth survey results reveal participants’ assessments of their progress toward academic outcomes. The results, illustrated in Exhibit 4, indicate that Student Engagement in Learning programs successfully supported youth in these areas.

Exhibit 4: Percent of Youth Agreeing to Questions tied to Student Engagement in Learning Outcomes

Youth reported strong progress in academic outcomes, especially in developing academic goals.

Younger youth (those in grade 10 and below) consistently reported greater progress toward academic outcomes. Youth in grades 9 and 10 generally reported the highest outcomes, while older youth (11th and 12th graders) reported the lowest outcomes.
